

Nocturne was written in the fall of 1980. It is an evocation of a summer evening in the woods by a lake: bird songs, insects humming, a light breeze. A moment of madness as the full moon rises. The scene recedes, fades away with the bird songs.